Creatures D6 / Mamacore

Name: Mamacore
Homeworld: Trask
Habitat: Oceans
Diet: Carnivore / Fish

Dexterity: 2D
Perception: 2D
Strength: 4D

Special Abilities

Teeth: Mamacore have large gaping maws and can bite and hold their prey with amazing strength, their Teeth do Strength+2D Damage.

Massive Size: Mamacore are massive creatures, their sheer size makes them resistant to damage, and are counted as Speeder Scale giving them a bonus 2D in rolls to deal and resist damage, although giving them a 2D penalty to hit and dodge attacks.

Move: 11 (Swimming)
Size: 10 meters

Description: Mamacores were carnivorous creatures from the estuary moon of Trask. One member of this species was held in captivity by Quarren boatmen, who regularly fed the beast. At one point, this mamacore attempted to eat Grogu alive, but was attacked soon after by the Mandalorian warrior Koska Reeves, who saved Grogu.

Stats by FreddyB, descriptive text from WookieePedia.
Image copyright LucasArts.
Any complaints, writs for copyright abuse, etc should be addressed to the Webmaster FreddyB.