Creatures D6 / Ridadi (Star-Locust)

Name: Ridadi
Scale: Starfighter
Size: 40-50 Meters
Classification: Star-locust
Habitat: Space

Dexterity: 3D
Perception: 3D
Strength: 3D

Special Abilities

Space Lifeform: Ridadi usually travel through space, navigating by certain naturally occurring magnetic signals from stars, and are as comfortable during their generationally long journeys through space as they are within an atmosphere.

Ravenous Bite: Ridadi have a mouth full of razor sharp teeth and consume almost anything in front of then, doing Str+2D damage.

Move: 13
Size: 1.4m

Description: The Ridadi were a species of star-locust who were known to migrate through space. While migrating, they used the specific magnetic pulses of nearby stars to guide them and usually avoided inhabited worlds. However, their way of navigation meant that any man-made magnetic pulses of a similar frequency could lead them astray. Ridadis are also known to migrate through the area near the planet Shuraden once every generation.

Stats by FreddyB, descriptive text from WookieePedia.
Image copyright LucasArts.
Any complaints, writs for copyright abuse, etc should be addressed to the Webmaster FreddyB.