Description: Gonky was a defective GNK-series power droid who served Clone Force 99 aboard the Havoc Marauder. Wrecker frequently used the droid as a weightlifting aid. As a defective unit, Gonky's power unit could not fully charge. The enhanced clone Omega used the droid as a cot for a brief time. Additionally, she spoke to Gonky on occasion, showing it her trooper doll. When the Havoc Marauder was boarded by enemy Zygerrians, Omega told the droid to hide, to which he simply powered down.

Omega tried to fix Gonky's power unit to allow him to charge fully, but Hunter told her it was no use since he was a defective unit. The young clone comforted Gonky by saying that they were all defective. During the Bad Batch's mission to Daro, Gonky provided extra power to the ship when it was attacked by Imperial V-wing starfighters. But when a second group of V-wings opened fire, Gonky short circuited.
