Story Factors:
Bodyguards: Glymphids have an inborn desire to protect and serve. This comes from their service to their sister species, the Dympleds. They usually become bodyguards, hit men, or otherwise work for crime syndicates. More noble-minded Glymphids become police officers, Sector Rangers, or even Jedi.

Move: 9/11

Description: Glymphids were a race of aliens that came from the planet Ploo II. They were tall and thin, with tan skin, long snouts, and suction cup-tipped fingers. The podracer Aldar Beedo was a Glymphid.

As a race, they were rod-thin with tan-skin, and had long snouts. The Glymphid had frills on their necks and rounded nodules on their torso. They had fingers which ended in suction cups.

Aldar Beedo was a well-known Glymphid bounty hunter and podracer pilot around 32 BBY. In 1 ABY, a Glymphid messenger tracked down Rebel Alliance pilot Luke Skywalker on Nyemari.
