Description: Sakiya, also known as Saki, was a planet located in the Bootana Hutta region of Hutt Space. It was the tropical and heavily industrialized homeworld of the Sakiyan species.

History
Although located near the astrographic center of Hutt Space, the indigenous Sakiyans resisted any attempt at takeover by the Hutts. Employing advanced repulsorlift technology highly valued by the Hutts, the Sakiyans had meticulous evacuation plans that they constantly revised, allowing them to quickly transport people, resources, and supplies to safety, and allowing them to conduct hit-and-run attacks against the invaders until they withdrew. Their vigilance and mobility repulsed invasions from the Sith, the Tion Hegemony, and the Hutts.

Around the time the Eternal Empire ruled the galaxy, several Hutt Cartel warehouses were burned to the ground in a brief slave revolt, leaving nothing but scorched ruins behind. The Hutts subsequently attempted to bring the Sakiyans back into line.

Points of interest

Rotoksa Mountain Range
The Rotoksa Mountain Range was a snowy mountain range located on the Hutt Space planet Sakiya. The mountains contained the city of Ridgetown.

Hunter's Valley
Hunter's Valley was a valley located in the Rotoksa Mountain Range on the planet Sakiya. The owners of the nearby Rotoksa Ridge Grand Lodge transformed the valley into a game preserve by importing Species from around the galaxy trapping them with a particle shield, so that they could be easily hunted.

Ridgetown Square
Ridgetown Square was a location in the city of Ridgetown on the planet Sakiya. It contained the Saki chapter of the Bounty Hunters' Guild.

Saki chapter of the Bounty Hunters' Guild
The Saki chapter of the Bounty Hunters' Guild was a chapter of the Bounty Hunters' Guild that operated out of a spire located in Ridgetown Square on the planet Sakiya.

Rotoksa Ridge Grand Lodge
The Rotoksa Ridge Grand Lodge was a city-sized structure built in Sakiya's Rotoksa Mountain Range out of stone and wood. It was surrounded by a collection of small buildings known as Ridgetown. The Lodge was the base for numerous hunts, which were a critical part of Sakiyan culture.

The Lodge overlooked the massive Hunter's Valley, which was converted into a game preserve. Species from around the galaxy were brought to the valley and trapped by a particle shield, so that they could be easily hunted.

Iepatap Harbor
Iepatap Harbor was a large shantytown located on the planet Sakiya.

Kæhaxa
Kæhaxa was the capital city of the planet Sakiya. Like the cities of Ithor, Kæhaxa used repulsorlift technology to hover above the ground. This allowed to city to slowly move across the planet, and it often stopped near small villages.

Ridgetown
Ridgetown was a major city built around the Rotoksa Ridge Grand Lodge on the planet Sakiya. It was inhabited primarily by Sakiyans who sought admittance to the Lodge, and contained dozens of shops and cantinas.
