Description: Stass Allie, a Force-sensitive Tholothian female, was a Jedi Master who lived during the final years of the Galactic Republic. She was also the cousin of Adi Gallia, a fellow Jedi Master and member of the Jedi High Council. Allie became a Jedi General in the Grand Army of the Republic and, gained a seat on the High Council of the Jedi Order late in the Clone Wars.

Allie was killed on the planet Saleucami during the waning hours of the Clone Wars. Having received the command to execute Order 66 from Supreme Chancellor Sheev Palpatine, Clone Commander CC-8826 and another Grand Army clone trooper opened fire on their general, ending the Jedi Master's life.

Biography

Early life

Stass Allie was born on Tholoth prior to the Separatist Crisis. She was the cousin of Jedi Master Adi Gallia, who was born into a high-ranking diplomatic family on Coruscant. Allie was found to be Force-sensitive and brought to the Jedi Temple on Coruscant to start her Jedi training. She specialized in an advanced form of healing, a technique which she self-perfected, and became renowned as a diplomat like her cousin. She was eventually granted the title of Jedi Master, and became a member of the Circle of Jedi Healers and served as overseer of the Medical Corps.

Allie was present at Chancellor Palpatine's office with the senator and the Jedi in the debate over whether to take Palpatine's supernatural powers.

Battle of Geonosis

After the Jedi Council received word that Senator Padmé Amidala, Jedi Anakin Skywalker and Obi-Wan Kenobi had been captured by the the leaders of the Confederacy of Independent Systems and the Geonosians resulting in a sentence to death, Stass Allie was recruited and joined Mace Windu's Jedi Strike team that were sent to rescue them. She and her fellow Jedi Masters fought valiantly inside the Petranaki Arena against the Separatist Droid Army. Most of the Jedi were killed in the ensuing battle, though Allie managed to survive long enough for the new clone army to arrive, who had arrived to escort the remaining Jedi off the planet in several Republic gunships. She and Bultar Swan, who she had been fighting back to back with, boarded the same gunship and were brought to the desert plain where the battle had spread to. The two shared a nod before they both charged forward to continue fighting the Separatist Droid Army.

Jedi High Council
Over the course of the Clone Wars, Allie continued to hone her healing skills even while deployed as a Jedi General, though her diplomatic skills were tested as the Separatist threat loomed.

In 19 BBY, Stass Allie was granted a seat on the Jedi High Council due to her invaluable role as a Jedi Consular. Allie served on the Council until the end of the war, present in hologram when Anakin Skywalker was admitted to the Jedi Council, and when Obi-Wan Kenobi was sent to Utapau.

Order 66
Near the end of the Clone Wars, Allie was sent to the desolate planet of Saleucami, located in the Outer Rim, in order to battle Separatist forces. She was accompanied by the 91st Mobile Reconnaissance Corps, which was commanded by the clone commander Neyo, who was also present. Unknown to Allie or any of the other Jedi, the clones had been programmed with inhibitor chips, which forced them to comply with the execution of Order 66, which meant the extermination of all the Jedi across the galaxy.

As the Order was played on their comlink, Allie, along with Neyo and another clone trooper, were patrolling the bleak and barren landscape of the war-torn planet on BARC speeders in a mop up operation. She was completely caught off guard as Neyo and his wingman fell back behind her and fired upon her speeder repeatedly without hesitation. She was killed instantly as the speeder exploded and was blasted to pieces.

Personality and traits
Stass Allie was a tall, stern woman with indigo eyes and dark skin with green patches. Her brown, scalped head tapered to a point, and eight pale, fleshy tendrils hung down her back.

Powers and abilities
Stass Allie was talented at lightsaber combat and was one of the few survivors of the Battle of Geonosis, the opening battle of the Clone Wars. While her swordsmanship was impressive, her talent for Force healing was more so. She passed down this skill to other Jedi, including Barriss Offee.

Equipment
Stass Allie had a green bladed lightsaber that she used during the Battle of Geonosis. She also wore tall travel boots, a utility belt, a light brown tunic with dark robes, and adorned her scaled scalp with a headdress consisting of a web of thin chains and a brown fabric band which framed her face.
