Planets D6 / Calior

Name: Calior
Region: Outer Rim Territories
Class: Terrestrial
Atmosphere: Breathable
Surface water: Lakes
Points of interest: Southern water works
Immigrated species: Humans
Government: Calior regional government

Description: Calior was a planet situated in the Outer Rim Territories. Inhabited by humans, Calior was controlled by a regional government. During the time of the Galactic Empire, Imperial Chief Regional Auditor Cygnus Anton visited Calior with a group of stormtroopers and forces of the Crimson Dawn criminal syndicate in order to claim its southern water works as property of the Empire. Anton's forces were attacked by a group known as the Revengers that opposed Crimson Dawn, as well as the Sith Lord Darth Vader and several assassins who were serving him on a quest to destroy the syndicate.

Places of Interest

Southern water works

The southern water works was a facility on the Outer Rim planet Calior. It was situated on a lake and was constructed by residents of Calior under the employment of the regional government. During the Imperial Era, Chief Regional Auditor Cygnus Anton of the Galactic Empire visited Calior to claim the southern water works as Imperial property from the planet's residents, who by that time were the children of the original builders.

Stats by FreddyB, Descriptive Text from WookieePedia.
Image copyright LucasArts.
Any complaints, writs for copyright abuse, etc should be addressed to the Webmaster FreddyB.