Starships D20 / Corellian Corvette (CR-92)

Corellian Corvette (CR-92)

The Corellian Corvette was a common multipurpose vessel. It was a modular design and could be configured for cargo transport, passenger liner service, or even military duty. The Corellian Corvette was so common among legitimate shipping, passenger, and government interests that many pirates and smugglers had taken to using it for their own purposes.

The CR-92 is what Corellian Engineering Corporation advertised as THE Corellian Corvette. Adequately armed and armored, the CR-92 was a very versatile vessel.
