Mobile Defense Ship

The New Republic's Mobile Defense Ship was designed in by the Republic's top designers, the Verpine and the Mon Calamari. Stretching for nearly eight kilometers in length, the Mobile Defense Ship is a sleek vessel with a large hangar bulding from each side of the ship. It is designed as a large scale, mobile weapons platform for the sole purpose of planetary defense. Often the mere presence of such a ship is enough to make any attack force turn around and flee.
