Special Abilities:

Shifting: The Stennes Shifter uses its shifting ability to conceal itself in large crowds. This counts as an action. In crowds of 20-50 individuals, a Stennes Shifter gains +1D to sneak rolls. In crowds of 51-75 individuals, a Shifter gains +2D. In crowds of 76-100, the bonus increases to +3D. In crowds over 100 individuals, a Shifter gains +4D. This shifting affects everybody, except telepathic-resistant beings like Hutts.

Feed on Force: Stennes Shifters can feed on Force Points or Character Points spent in their presence, on a successful Perception test against the targets Control or Willpower, the Stennes Shifter can absorb a Force or Character Point spent in their presence. This means the character spending the point loses it as usual, but gains none of the advantages from spending it, and the Stennes Shifter adds it to their total.

Story Factors:

Legendary: Though many people have heard of Stennes Shifters, the existence of the species is considered only a legend.

Description: Trinto Duaba was a male Stennes Shifter from Stennaros. An independent vagrant traveler about whom little was known, he was notably present in Chalmun's Spaceport Cantina in Mos Eisley, Tatooine, on that fateful day that Luke Skywalker and Obi-Wan Kenobi first met Han Solo and Chewbacca. Sitting in a darkened booth with the Ithorian Momaw Nadon, Duaba witnessed Skywalker and Kenobi enter into an altercation with Dr. Cornelius Evazan and his companion Ponda Baba. Over thirty years later, Duaba was also present at Maz's castle on Takodana when Han Solo brought Finn, Rey, and BB-8 to meet Maz Kanata. Due to a hyperspace-rip side-effect, the Stennes Shifter, along with many other patrons, witnessed the destruction of the remote Hosnian system directly from Takodana. Shortly thereafter, Maz's castle was leveled by the First Order, which killed many of its inhabitants. Duaba, however, managed to slip through the chaos unharmed and seek shelter elsewhere.
