Description: Allen Neff was a Human male from the planet Ertegas who moved to Bespin at the age of six, joining the Wing Guard that served the planet's Cloud City by 3 ABY. Prior to the Galactic Empire's occupation of Bespin that year, Neff was among the Bespin Wing Guard troopers accompanying Cloud City's Baron Administrator, Lando Calrissian, in greeting the passengers of the light freighter Millennium Falcon—the Empire's intended target—as the vessel landed on Cloud City's Platform 327.

Biography

The Human male Allen Neff hailed from the planet Ertegas. He had a sister named Atril and, at the age of six, left his homeworld and moved to the planet Bespin. Allen eventually followed his sister in joining the Bespin Wing Guard, the main security force of the planet's Cloud City. In 3 ABY, the Galactic Empire occupied Bespin with the intent to capture the Rebel Alliance's light freighter Millennium Falcon.

When the Millennium Falcon landed on Cloud City's Platform 327, Neff was among the Wing Guard troopers accompanying the city's Baron Administrator, Lando Calrissian and his chief administrative aide, Lobot, in greeting the freighter's occupants. Upon Lobot's command, Neff and the other Wing Guard left the Baron Administrator and his aide alone with the Falcon's Captain Han Solo and his passengers, none of whom knew that Calrissian was in truth leading them into a trap set by the Empire.
