

Starships D6 / Earth Federation Strike

Earth Federation Strike Cruiser

This was constructed to meet the demands of the Earth military for a small in-system patrol craft that could take care of itself. The Strike Cruiser fit the bill to the letter. Small, (350 meters), and well armed (see below), the Strike Cruiser was a formidable opponent, especially when fitted with mobile suits. Able to carry 6, the Strike Cruiser suddenly became much more deadly, able to defend against the "weak" raids the Zeon were so well-known for.
