Innate Spellcasting. The Leannan Sìth's innate spellcasting ability is Charisma (spell save DC 19). The Leannan Sìth can innately cast the following spells, requiring no material components:

At will: charm person, minor illusion
3/day each: charm monster, dimension door, suggestion
1/day: dominate person

Magic Resistance. The Leannan Sìth has advantage on saving throws against spells and other magical effects.

Actions

Multiattack. The Leannan Sìth makes two attacks with its claws.

Claws. Melee Weapon Attack: +9 to hit, reach 5 ft., one target. Hit: 13 (2d8 + 4) slashing damage.

Charm. The Leannan Sìth targets one humanoid it can see within 30 feet of it. If the target can see the Leannan Sìth, it must succeed on a DC 19 Wisdom saving throw against this magic or be magically charmed. The charmed creature regards the Leannan Sìth as a trusted friend to be heeded and protected. Although the target isn't under the Leannan Sìth's control, it takes the Leannan Sìth's requests or actions in the most favorable way it can, and it is a willing target for the Leannan Sìth's bite attack.

Bite. Melee Weapon Attack: +9 to hit, reach 5 ft., one willing humanoid charmed by the Leannan Sìth, or a creature the Leannan Sìth is grappling. Hit: 7 (1d6 + 4) piercing damage. The target's hit point maximum is reduced by an amount equal to the damage taken, and the Leannan Sìth regains hit points equal to that amount. The reduction lasts until the target finishes a long rest.

The target dies if this effect reduces its hit point maximum to 0.

Description: The Leannan Sìth is a Scottish folklore creature that has intrigued people for centuries. Known for its beauty, the Leannan Sìth has been depicted in various forms of art and literature, but its actual physical characteristics remain shrouded in mystery.

Physical Appearance
The Leannan Sìth is often described as a beautiful woman with long hair, fair skin, and piercing eyes. She is said to have a graceful and alluring presence that captivates anyone who sets their eyes on her. However, despite her human-like appearance, the Leannan Sìth is not entirely human.

According to legend, the Leannan Sìth has wings that are hidden beneath her long hair. She can transform into a bird-like creature, taking flight to travel long distances. Her wings are often described as having a span of around 10 feet and covered in iridescent feathers that shimmer in the moonlight.

The Leannan Sìth is also known for her ability to shapeshift. She can take on the form of a cat, a hare, or even a bird of prey, making her a formidable opponent in any situation. Her shapeshifting abilities are said to be strongest during the full moon, where her powers are at their peak.

Habits and Abilities
The Leannan Sìth is a solitary creature that prefers to live in secluded areas such as forests or near bodies of water. She is often associated with the Otherworld, a mystical realm that is said to exist alongside our own.

Despite her beauty, the Leannan Sìth is not to be trifled with. She is known for her seductive powers, using her charms to lure in unsuspecting victims. Once under her spell, the victim becomes infatuated with the Leannan Sìth, willing to do anything to please her.

The Leannan Sìth is also believed to possess the power of inspiration. She is said to be a muse, inspiring poets and artists to create their best works. However, her inspiration comes at a price, as the recipient must sacrifice something of themselves to receive it.
