StormElite Soldier

StormElite soldiers are basic infantry that aid the more numerous shock troops during attacks and counter-attacks. SE soldiers fight ruthlessly and never question orders, no matter how outrageous they may seem.

Soldiers of the SE fight among many different kinds of terrains, against many diverse enemies. The most famed infantry division among the StormElite is the SE Sixth Infantry Division, who fought from the very beginning of the Commonwealth Sector War against the cold-hardened forces of the Commonwealth Army.

The SE Sixth Infantry Division fought their way into the heavily defended city of Astenda on the planet of Drakosia, and was surrounded by two army strength repulsortank divisions. For six weeks, the entrapped Sixth Infantry Division fought against an enemy who had a much superior three to one advantage. The division eventually broke out of the pocket, and out of a 20,000 man division, 186 men returned home alive after the Battle of Astenda.

Uniforms for StormElite soldiers include field gray tunic and trousers, camouflage pullover garment, a light combat pack with combat suspenders, and either a field helmet or baseball-style Death's Head insignia field cap.
