Background: Scalder was a female human doctor who served under the Galactic Empire during the early days of the Imperial Era as an administrator, technician, and scientist. Safeguarded by a contingent of Imperial royal guards, Scalder oversaw the Empire's cloning procedures in Mount Tantiss on the planet Weyland. The officer personally welcomed Nala Se to Tantiss after the Kaminoan's own cloning laboratories were decommissioned and promised the alien scientist that the Empire had high hopes for her future.

Personality and traits

Scalder was a human female who possessed bangs of long dark brown hair which she kept in a bun, light skin, and brown eyes. She wore the white uniform of an Imperial scientist with a modified Kaminoan crest on the sleeves as well as a pair of goggles fitted with a communication device.
