Description: Fireball was a clone trooper who eventually joined the clone resistance network that was created by Clone Captain Rex early in the Imperial Era. Fireball was part of a mission that was involved in an attack on the prisoner transport ship alongside Gregor, Echo, and Nemec that rescued Howzer and two other clones.

Biography

Clone Wars

Fireball was created on the planet Kamino as a clone of the human male bounty hunter Jango Fett to serve as a clone trooper in the Galactic Republic's clone army during the Clone Wars against the Separatist Alliance.

The attack on the prisoner transport

At some point around 18 BBY, Fireball took part in an attack on an Imperial Gozanti-class cruiser that was transporting disobedient clones to an unknown location. After boarding the vessel, Fireball was ordered by Echo to free Howzer and his men while he and Nemec secured the ship's bridge. After freeing and arming the clone prisoners, Fireball and the raiding party fled the ship upon the arrival of an Imperial Venator-class Star Destroyer. As the prisoner transport ship was strafed and destroyed by a squadron of Alpha-3 Nimbus-class V-wing starfighters, Fireball and the other rogue clones jumped to hyperspace in their ship.

Equipment

Fireball was equipped in standard Phase II clone trooper armor that was dyed a tint of dark green. The visor of their helmet was also green in coloration. This armor was used by the 41st Elite Corps during the Battle of Kashyyyk.
