Description: Around 9 ABY, a taxi droid piloted Doctor Penn Pershing in an air taxi from the Galaxies Opera House to Amnesty Housing on the planet Coruscant. During the journey, the taxi droid congratulated Pershing on making it into the New Republic Amnesty Program and, upon learning that Pershing had only recently arrived on Coruscant, recommended a series of Coruscant locations that the doctor should visit.

Biography
A taxi droid piloted an air taxi in Galactic City on the planet Coruscant while the world was controlled by the New Republic. Around 9 ABY, the droid drove Doctor Penn Pershing, a member of the New Republic Amnesty Program, back to Amnesty Housing after he had delivered a speech at the Galaxies Opera House. During the ride, the droid turned and, based on their destination, congratulated him on making it into the program.

The droid then questioned if the doctor had been on Coruscant long, and when Pershing revealed that he had not, the droid claimed that he would find it a lovely city. The droid then began recommending places to visit in Galactic City, starting with the blooming Mysess blossoms at the Skydome Botanical Gardens. The doctor gestured for the droid to turn back to the front of the vehicle, which the pilot did before continuing its recommendations with a new exhibit on hyperdrive technology at the Galactic Museum. As the droid was telling Pershing about the creatures displayed at the Holographic Museum of Extinct Animals, they arrived at the Amnesty Housing landing platform. Stopping mid-way through describing the mantabog displayed at the museum, the droid asked the doctor to watch his step as he exited the vehicle, then wished him a good evening before flying away.

Characteristics

The taxi droid described the Mysess blossoms at the Skydome Botanical Gardens as a sight to behold when they were in full bloom. It considered the hyperdrive technology exhibit at the Galactic Museum wonderful and fascinating and also described many of the creatures at the Holographic Museum of Extinct Animals as fascinating. It congratulated Pershing upon learning he had made it into the Amnesty Program and also wished him a good evening when they parted ways. The droid had gray and bronze-colored plating and yellow sensors.
