Vine: The plant can sprout a number of vines and use them to attack multiple targets, depending on it's size, and can grow 1 per round when in direct sunlight.

Fast Growth: In sunlight the Grumble Vine grows massively, gaining 1D in strength per round from it's base of 1D, until it reaches it's maximum 5D. It can also sprout 1 vine per round. If it suffers a Wound or better, the vine which is struck is destroyed, and it's core can only be attacked when it has no vines left.

Sunlight Reliance: The Grumble Vine can only grow and operate in direct sunlight, if it's vines are shielded from direct light then the vine ceases to function until the light is restored. If the core of the plant is shielded from sunlight, then the vines shrink and retract and the plant becomes inactive.

Move: 0

Description: The Grumble Vines were a type of vine. The plant could grow massive wild vines when given sunlight. Its vines were strong enough to penetrate massive structures such as the Jedi Temple on the planet Tenoo. Without sunlight, the plant bloomed into a beautiful flower that could produce a pod.
