Description: A model of pilot droid was utilized during the High Republic Era. The pilot droids had long and narrow heads as well as a pair of arms; when inactive, the droids retracted into seats. Two such droids piloted a prison transport carrying a number of prisoners, including the meknek Osha Aniseya, to Coruscant. When the other prisoners planned to escape, a cyborg convict remotely deactivated the pilot droids, causing the prison transport to fall out of hyperspace near Carlac.
