Characters D6 / Earth Federation Land Comb

Earth Federation Land Combat Mobile Suite Pilot

Mobile Suits were originally designed to be space weapons. However, the conflict on the ground led the Federation to approve the design of a new type of mobile suit. It was called the G model, and led the assault on the ground. Special pilots emerged to take command of these rather specialized machines.

Background: You have been an Earth citizen for a very long time, now, being one of those people who has a natural distrust of space, and its highly fickle nature. To your mind, Earth is the place to be, and you would die to defend it. Indeed, to prove your fidelity to the Earth, you signed up to serve in the Land MS Units. They told you you couldn't make it, but you did. Now its time to show those Zekes what you're made of, and fill up all the empty space on that uniform.

Personality: Tense, and quiet, you are often called a coiled spring. You keep your temper on a very tight leash, but when in combat, you sometimes go berserk. You hate the Zeon, and all they stand for. You will go to any lengths to drive them off the planet.
