Description: The Avandor-class fighter/transport, also known as the Guavian Ship, was model of starship that was used by the Guavian Death Gang during the war between the First Order and the Resistance.

History

One Avandor-class vessel was present within the Outer Rim Territories shadowport Borgo Prime around 9 ABY.

A squad of Guavian security soldiers accompanied Bala-Tik when he and members of Kanjiklub boarded Han Solo's Baleen-class heavy freighter, the Eravana.

A contingent of Guavian starships fought in a skirmish in Guavian Death Space after the Colossus intruded on their territory, though most were destroyed.

In 35 ABY, Guavian starships were part of a fleet assembled by Lando Calrissian to assist the Resistance during the battle against the Sith Eternal forces over the planet Exegol.
