Description: During the New Republic Era, a Troglof worked as an attendant at Skull Ridge Mountain Hotel & Spa on the planet of Lanupa. Around 9 ABY, he tended to a male Hutt who was taking a mud bath in the facility. The attendant brought the Hutt a tray of foodstuff, humming along the way and bowing to them before presenting the meal. Upon closer examination, however, the guest rejected the food and instead helped themselves to the attendant. When grasped in the Hutt's hand, the Troglof pleaded with them not to do so again before he finally ended up eaten by the guest.

Personality and traits

The spa attendant was a gray-skinned Troglof. He had an elongated and rounded head, with the eyes located on appendages that protruded from the top of his head. He wore his dark-gray hair combed back into a single plait and sported a beige tunic adorned with patterned stripes.
