Description: A pirate frigate was operated by Silvo's pirates in the New Republic Era. It was equipped with multiple Turbolaser batteries and a large central hanger that could launch out pirate Snub fighters. Its destruction took place on At Attin, in an attempt to seize control of the planet’s mint, by New Republic forces, which were contacted by Kh'ymm. Several fighters, including T-65B

X-wing starfighters, and A/SF-01 B-wing starfighters, and a CR90 corvette arrived at At Attin. The Pirate Frigate soon crashed down on the planet’s surface, after a fatal blow to the rear top section of the frigate by a B-Wing's Composite-beam laser.
