Description: Talia was a human female who was lived on Mina-Rau. She met Brasso and the pair entered into a relationship together.

Biography
Talia moved to the agricultural farm world Mina-Rau around 12 BBY. By 4 BBY, Talia had become a documented worker on Mina-Rau. Talia had also met a human male named Brasso who had fled Ferrix with his friends Bix Caleen, Wilmon Paak, Cassian Jeron Andor, and B2EMO after rioting against the Galactic Empire. She eventually fell for Brasso and the two became a couple and started to build a life together. During their time together she provided some financial support as well as emotional support for B2EMO.

One night while sleeping next to Brasso in the mobil-haus they shared with Caleen, Andor, Paak and B2EMO, the group was woken up by the sound of Caleen having a nightmare. She and Brasso tried to comfort Caleen before the group went back to bed. The next day the group learned that the Empire was conducting a Imperial Supply Census, which had not previously occurred in all the time that Talia lived on Mina-Rau. Later that day, Talia tried to comfort Caleen, Brasso and Paak who were worrying that the Empire might checked visa which the three did not have. The following night Talia joined the group when they met with Kellen, shop owner on Mina-Rau, who told them about the Empire's movement on Mina-Rau. Talia offered to say she lived in the mobil-haus since she had a visa. The following day she attended a communal gathering between local farmers and mechanics on Mina-Rau. During that gathering she brought a bowl of stew to Brasso and a couple of farmers playfully joked about the couple's relationship. After the gathering B2EMO stayed with Talia while the others went back to the mobil-haus to pack.
