Creatures D6 / Yeto

Yeto

The yeto is a large bripedal mammalian predator native to the western forests of Unfen. To the locals, the yeto is nothing more than a legend brought back by the few who have crossed the great mountain barrier from the east to search for new farming land. However, the yeto is quite real indeed and not a legend.

The yeto is perhaps the most skilled and deadly hunter on Unfen. It has been known to stalk prey over several kilometers for up to days at a time. The yeto has staggering stamina, dooming practically anything it chooses to pursue.

In appearance the yeto is roughly humanoid with a head, two arms and two legs. It is covered by thick brown-green fur which gives it a natural camofluage in the forest. It wields wickedly sharp retractable claws at the tip of each finger which serve two purposes: killing and climbing.
